DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: References to specific claims should be avoided, e.g. page 1, line 6-8. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Re claim 1, the recitation “and with at least one weft bar” is confusing. A more clear recitation is “and at least one weft bar.” In line 4, the recitation “the textile material” is indefinite as it has no clear antecedent basis. Also the recitation “the basis” is unclear.

Re claim 2, the recitation “the individual superposition” is indefinite as it lacks clear antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3765

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mayer US 4487039.

Mayer teaches the knitting machine as claimed including knitting needles and with at least one weft bar (6) for laying at least one weft thread (11) across at least one knitting needle, an electrically driven thread feeder (19) for the weft thread, and also with a take-down device (inherent to a warp knitting machine) for the textile material and with an electronic control device (26) for controlling the knitting machine on the basis of a pattern program for the textile material to be produced, wherein the control device (26) has control means in order to set the delivery length of the weft thread to be supplied according to the travel of the weft bar (6), said travel being predetermined from the pattern program. See column 3, line 61- column 4, line 27. Note the manual correction factor set forth in column 4, lines 3-12.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3 and 4 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mayer (4487039).

Mayer (4487039) teaches the invention substantially as claimed as indicated above in the rejection to claim 1. However Mayer does not expressly set forth a screen, specifically a touch screen, for the controlling apparatus. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the control device of Mayer with a screen specifically a touch screen since the examiner takes Official Notice of use of touch screens for computer control units in order to view and set computer control units.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
